

Annual Bird Report

Join CBC and receive the annual report Birds and Wildlife in Cumbria every year. It covers each bird species in detail and has sections on other flora and fauna in Cumbria, along with special reports. Back issues of this County Natural History report are available.

Newsletters

Join CBC and receive a quarterly newsletter by email. This features club news, event details and a round-up of bird activity in the last three months, along with specially written articles.

Events

Join CBC and come along to a series of indoor meetings and outdoor activities across Cumbria, such as the New Year's Bird Race – how many species can you find in a day?

Surveying

We would love you to report your bird sightings and help with systematic surveys undertaken locally and nationally. We work with the BTO, RSPB, local wildlife trusts and naturalist societies.

Our team accumulates records for the annual report, while our panel verifies reports of scarce, rare or vagrant birds.

We have recently surveyed Great-crested Grebes (2023) and Yellowhammers (2024) in Cumbria to see how numbers are changing. The full grebe report is in this year's BWiC. The Yellowhammer report will be available next year.

We are helping to produce a new Cumbrian avifauna of wintering and breeding birds, building on the national Bird Atlas survey. Each species account is published on the Cumbria Biodiversity Data Centre website as soon as it is complete.
